

DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY
SCHULICH SCHOOL OF LAW

MacBAIN CHAIR IN HEALTH LAW AND POLICY

The MacBain Chair in Health Law and Policy, named after Arthur Allister MacBain (LL.B. 1951) and established in 2011, was created through the generous support of the McCall MacBain Foundation.

We invite applications for a tenure-track or tenured appointment to the MacBain Chair in Health Law and Policy at the rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, to commence July 1, 2012. The term for the chair is five years and is renewable. The appointment is subject to budgetary approval. Applications received before September 30, 2011 will be given the fullest consideration.

The Faculty seeks applications from exceptional scholars in the field of health law and policy. The chair holder will provide intellectual leadership at the law school and with Dalhousie's Health Law Institute, and will be actively engaged in projects that seek to have an impact in the health law field locally, regionally, nationally, and internationally. The chair holder is expected to contribute to teaching and supervision at both the J.D. and graduate levels.

The Faculty of Law is already home to a Tier 2 CRC in Health Law in addition to Dalhousie's Health Law Institute. The addition of the MacBain Chair in Health Law and Policy is expected to make Dalhousie the leader in health law and policy research in Canada and place us among a small number of academic institutions with international impact in this field.

About the Schulich School of Law

The Schulich School of Law plays an extraordinary role in the fabric of Canadian legal education. We are the most nationally representative law school in the country, with a large number of students drawn from and returning to every region. We graduate leaders, with alumni holding every form of governmental office, teaching in most Canadian law schools, innovating in the provision of private and public sector legal services, advancing policy in the executive branch of government, rendering decisions on courts across the country, and offering service to non-governmental bodies, and non-profit and community organizations. We have always been marked by our commitment to unselfish public service,

We are rooted in our university context. We embrace the interdisciplinary opportunity of working in a university, we value the creation and dissemination of new knowledge, and we are firmly committed to students and to teaching and learning excellence.

We care about the history of the place where we find our roots. We are Atlantic Canadians – conscious of the difference we make to law reform, adjudication, legal service, and community engagement at home. We value the contributions of the founding communities in this province, the Mi'kmaq Nation, Acadians, African Nova Scotians, and British, and we open our doors to the world.

How to Apply

Applications, including a CV, a statement of teaching and research interests, and the names of three referees, should be forwarded by September 30, 2011 to:

Dean Kim Brooks
Schulich School of Law
Dalhousie University
1459 Oxford Street
Halifax, NS B3H 4R2
Tel: (902) 494-2114
Fax: (902) 494-2102

OR

Applications may be made by e-mail, addressed to: lawdean@dal.ca

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Dalhousie University is an Employment Equity/Affirmative Action employer. The University encourages applications from qualified Aboriginal persons, persons with a disability, racially visible persons and women. For more information, visit the Employment Equity web site at: www.hrehp.dal.ca.